

Mockup Review

Creative Director: Sophia Yang

Designer: Adejola Ogunsan

Mockup A

- The background pattern, font, and logo all do a great job capturing the vibe I'm going for!!
- The header and footer seem to blend into the background a bit too much, they could use more separation.
- The overall color palette feels a little muted and not quite as inviting as I'd like.
- I really like the navigation bar that shows the user path, it's helpful! But I wonder if there's another way to present it visually, since right now it feels quite disconnected from the top navigation bar.
- One thing I especially love is the treatment of the text blocks, the semi-transparent background allows the image to show through, which is a very nice touch.

Mockup B

- I'd prefer a stronger color distinction for the navigation bar to make it stand out more.
- The images feel a bit small, I'm definitely leaning toward a more image-based layout.
- The layout is really clean overall, and I appreciate the high contrast between text and background -- it makes things easier to read.
- Also, I'd definitely like to have a footer on this version too.

Overall

I prefer the logo from the first mockup.

The font's legibility could be improved -- perhaps some slight adjustments would help, especially on the "History" page.